DARLAN MILITARY CHIEF OF FRANCE

ALL POLITICAL PARTIES SUSPENDED

ADMIRAL JEAN DARLAN became last night the virtual military "dictator" of unoccupied France, as far-reaching French Cabinet re-organisation gave him supreme control of French land, sea and air forces.

Marshal Pétain, in a broadcast speech, admitted the failure up to the present of the national revolution, and the "veritable uneasiness" gripping the people of France.

The Marshal said that he had decided that "the activities of all parties and political groups are suspended in non-occupied France.

"Salaries of members of Parliament are abolished as from September 30.

"Sanctions will be taken against civil servants who are Freemasons, and holders of high Masonic rank will be excluded from public functions.

"The powers at the disposal of the police will be doubled. Commissioners will be entrusted with discovering and destroying the administrative organisation and the activities of secret societies."

Marshal Pétain said that he had decided to use his constitutional powers "to try those responsible for our collapse. A council of political justice is created to this end."

According to the Associated Press, Marshal Pétain charged the "London radio" and certain French newspapers with contributing to the "confusion of minds" in France, with resultant disorder of affairs. He ranged himself squarely, says the Associated Press, on the side of Germany in the fight against Russia, a fight which, he said, was "the Eastern defence of civilisation," and a battle which could "change the map of the world."

THE NEW CABINET

ASSOCIATED PRESS.

VICHY, Tuesday.

ADMIRAL JEAN DARLAN was to-day named Minister of National Defence in a Cabinet reorganisation, concentrating all military power in his hands.

A decree published in a special edition of the "Official Journal" gave Admiral Darlan greater powers than any person or combination of persons in France, except Marshal Pétain himself.

All members of the Government were raised to Ministerial rank by the new defence order. The Government is now composed of:—

Marshal Pétain, Premier.

Admiral Darlan, National Defence, Foreign Affairs and Navy.

General Huntziger, Minister for War.

M. Oseph Barthelemy, Minister for Justice.

M. Pierre Pucheux, Minister of the Interior.

M. Rene Bouthillier, Minister for National Economy and Finance.

M. Pierre Caziot, Minister for Agriculture.

M. Henri Moysset and M. Lucien Romier, Ministers of State.

M. Charbin, President of the Lyons Chamber of Commerce, was named Secretary of State for Food Supply, and

M. Paul Marion was made Secretary General for Information and Propaganda.

M. Serge Huard, Secretary of State for Family and Health.

The only new members are M. Charbin and M. Huard.

A semi-official statement, explaining the significance of Admiral Darlan's new post, says:—"While keeping his offices as Vice-Premier, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs and Secretary of State for the Navy, Admiral Darlan now takes over all military powers. The Secretaries of State for War, Navy, Air and the Colonies are under him.

"General Huntziger remains Secretary of State for War; General Bergeret, Secretary of State for Air, and Admiral Platon, Secretary of State for the Colonies.

"The Minister of National Defence is responsible for the general organisation of national defence; for the distribution and use of the armed forces, and for the general inspection of the armed forces."

PETAIN'S SPEECH

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

LONDON, Tuesday.

Marshal Pétain, broadcasting to the French nation to-night, said:—

"When war continues on the frontiers of a nation which defeat has put hors de combat, but whose Empire remains vulnerable, everyone asks himself with anguish: 'What is the future of my country?'

"Our relations with Germany are defined by an armistice convention, whose character could only be provisional. The prolongation of this situation renders it the more difficult to support, since it governs the relations between two great nations.

"As to the collaboration offered in October, 1940, by the German Chancellor, it is a work of slow development, and could not yet bear all its fruits. We must know how to orient ourselves towards a larger horizon, which a reconciled continent can open up to our activities. That is the end to which we are guiding our efforts; but it is a huge task, calling for our will and our patience.

"With regard to Italy, our relations are also regulated by the armistice convention. Here, again, our wish is to escape from these provisional relations and establish more stable bonds without which the European Order cannot be built up again.

"I would like to recall to the great American Republic the reasons why she need not fear a decline of French ideals. Our Parliamentary democracy, which is dead, had few traits in common with the democracy of the United States, but the instinct of freedom still lives in us proud and strong. Our difficulties and mistakes arise, above all, from troubled minds, lack of men and scarcity of products.

THE NEW ORDER

"The disturbance of our spirit does not only arise from the vicissitudes of our foreign policy, but, above all, from our slowness in reconstructing the new Order. The national revolution has not yet become a fact. This is because between the people and myself arose a double barrier raised by the upholders of the old régime and the servants of trusts.

"A long delay will be necessary to conquer the resistance of all these adversaries of the new order, but we must from now on break their undertakings by decimating their leaders.

"If France failed to understand that she is bound to change the regimé of yesterday, she would see open at her feet the abyss into which the Spain of 1936 nearly disappeared, only saving herself by the sacrifice of faith and youth.

"In the light of experience I shall rectify the work and shall take up again against egoistic and blind capitalism the struggle that the kings of France waged and won against feudalism."

Having spoken of political bodies and secret societies as reported above, the Marshal said: "A Labour charter will be promulgated shortly; the provisional statute for economic organisation will be remodelled; the organisation for food supply will be altered; a Council of political justice will be set up in order to speed up the trial of those responsible for the disaster.—(Reuter.)

Senator Connally, new Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said to-night that Petain had ordered 'obsequious servitude to totalitarianism and tyranny," and France "has ignominiously embraced her former enemy and her recent conqueror."—(Associated Press.)

TO TAKE OVER MARTINIQUE?

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday.

Senator Walter George, until recently Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told reporters to-day that the United States "might speedily find it necessary to anticipate" any participation by Germany in the control of France's Western Hemisphere possessions by taking over such strategic points as Martinique.

FINED £5 PER ANIMAL

FAILURE TO REPORT CATTLE DISEASE

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

KILKENNY, Tuesday.

"I regret to say that the condition of County Kilkenny with regard to foot-and-mouth disease is very much worse, and demands the fullest co-operation in the stamping out of the disease, which is costing the country a fortune, to say nothing about the cost to these men themselves," said Mr. O. Moriarty, K.C. (instructed by Dr. M. J. Crotty, State Solicitor), to-day, when prosecutions were brought against farmers and stock-owners for failing to give notice of their stock being affected with foot-and-mouth disease.

In a case against John Bolger, Oldgrange, Graiguenamanagh, who had 24 animals affected on his premises, counsel told the court that on the 15th of June Bolger's land was visited by a Department veterinary inspector, not in consequence of a report made by the defendant, but as the result of a conversation which he had with a Civic Guard sergeant. Bolger asked the sergeant about the possibility of a veterinary surgeon being in attendance at Mass that day, as he had a couple of sick cattle. On this vague information the sergeant reported the matter, and when the inspector visited the place the cattle were in varying stages of the disease.

The defendant said he blamed pig feeding cubes for the animals being drowsy. They were often similarly ill after he fed them on beet pulp. He did not suspect the animals were affected with foot-and-mouth disease.

The Justice imposed a fine of £5 in respect of each of nineteen cattle, and allowed fifteen guineas costs.

Isaac Bradley, Tourtane, Castlecomer, was fined £5 in respect of each of six cattle, with twelve guineas costs, in a charge of failing to report that twenty cattle were affected.

TWO OUTBREAKS OF CATTLE DISEASE

Two outbreaks of foot-and-mouth disease were confirmed yesterday at Rathvinden, Leighlinbridge, County Carlow, and Tullowbrin, John's Well, County Kilkenny.

HIGH PRICES FOR FAT STOCK

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

CORK, Tuesday.

Excellent prices were again obtained at Cork to-day, when Messrs. Marsh held another sale of 480 fat cattle, all of which were cleared within an hour and a-half. Top price was secured by five beasts from Co. Limerick, which fetched £28 15s. each. Bulls realised from £23 15s. to £20; cows, £17 to £15.

AN TAOISEACH IN CONNEMARA

The Prime Minister, Mr. de Valera, paid a short visit yesterday to a Construction Corps camp at Shanafeintin, Cloosh Valley, Connemara. He was accompanied by Lieutenant-General D. MacKenna, Chief of Staff; Colonel Lillis, Colonel McCorley, Commandant Tierney, Captain Winters and Lieutenant Childers.

22 KILLED IN BRITISH AIR CRASH

WHEN a Trans-Oceanic aircraft crashed on a hillside in Britain on Sunday 22 people were killed. The machine had left a British airport for the United States.

Nearly 200 men, including holiday-makers and Service men on leave, were mobilised to search the hills for the bodies, a number of which have been recovered.

The following announcement was made by the British Air Ministry last night:—

> "The Air Ministry much regrets to announce that on Sunday last a Trans-Oceanic aircraft flew into a hillside shortly after taking off from this country and that 22 passengers and crew lost their lives."

An Associated Press message from Montreal states that eight of the victims were from Canada, seven from the United States, six were British citizens and one was from Australia.

The wreckage was discovered twenty-four hours after by a shepherd in a high-walled hollow on a ridge—only two miles from a village—when his dog came to him carrying something in his mouth, which he recognised as part of a 'plane.

Ferry pilots returning to the United States were included in the victims.

LESS WAR FEVER IN FAR EAST

ASSOCIATED PRESS.

SHANGHAI, Wednesday.

A DOMEI despatch from Hanoi to-day said that Indo-China had prohibited the export of all merchandise except to Japan.

An Associated Press message from the Philippine Islands says:—"According to a Japanese source the Japanese High Command is planning to place 180,000 troops in Indo-China, the majority stationed in Western Cambodia, adjoining Thailand, supported by large garrisons in key positions commanding Indo-China's back door. The Japanese Army meanwhile has completely occupied and controls Indo-China, after stripping the Government of administrative powers."

A Reuter message from Tokyo says: "Japan and the Soviet Union are conducting their affairs in an atmosphere of quiet trust and accommodation," writes the Japan Times, Japanese Foreign Office organ, to-day.

"The two nations," it adds, "are just now occupied with their several problems on other fronts, and for them, even vaguely to consider such possibilities as had been mentioned by an unhealthy and subversive publicity, can only add to the difficulties confronting the world."

AUSTRALIAN LABOUR

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

SYDNEY, Tuesday.

Mr. Evatt and Mr. Beasley, two of the Labour representatives on the Australian War Council, to-day urged the Labour Party to prepare to take over the Commonwealth Government. Mr. Evatt agreed that an election must be avoided at present, but, he added: "Parliament must respond to the rising tide of public opinion against the Menzies Government."

PREMIER FOR LONDON

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

MELBOURNE, Tuesday.

Mr. Menzies, disclosing to-day that the Federal Cabinet had unanimously requested him to go to London again as soon as possible, said that it was imperative that whoever went should have the real backing of the National Parliament of his own country.

RAID ON MOSCOW FOILED

Wednesday.

A group of German 'planes attempted to raid Moscow during last night, says Moscow radio.

"Heavy fire from our anti-aircraft batteries and the action of our night fighters dispersed the enemy 'planes and prevented them reaching the capital," the announcer said.—(Reuter.)

FEW RAIDERS OVER BRITAIN

Early this morning raiders were reported over several parts of Britain, but their numbers were apparently small, and there were no signs of a concentrated raid developing on any district. The areas from which they were reported were East Anglia, South Wales, the North and West Midlands, and North-East and North-West England.

'Planes were active over an Eastern England town some time before midnight. Bombs were dropped, but no damage had been reported up to an early hour this morning.

HOWTH MOTION RULED OUT

Mr. T. Mullen, T.D., presiding at Howth Urban Council meeting last night, ruled out a motion in the name of Councillor R. J. Burke: (1) "Deploring the delay in implementing the findings and recommendations of the Local Government (Dublin) Tribunal, to the effect that the maintenance of the urban district of Howth as a distinct entity was uneconomic; and (2) stating that the accounts of the Council had not been audited for the past three years."

The Chairman said that he would not have accepted the motion if he were present when it was put down. The motion, he said, was untrue, and had an opportunistic tinge. They had the audit right through the last three years.

Mr. J. J. Clare and Mrs. M. Mulvey were the only members of the Dublin Board of Public Health present yesterday. This is the first time that there has not been a quorum at the meeting since the inception of the Board.

BIG DAYLIGHT AIR ATTACK ON COLOGNE

RAIDS ALSO OVER NORTHERN FRANCE

YESTERDAY'S British air raid on Cologne is described as the heaviest daylight attack yet made on Germany.

Squadrons of Blenheim bombers, accompanied by fighters as far as Antwerp, struck at the great power stations at Quadrath and Knapsack. It is claimed that after many hits the targets were left in flames. The attack was renewed later in the day upon Cologne and Emden. Hampden bombers, at the same time, attacked positions in Northern France.

According to the British account, these operations cost twelve Blenheims and eight fighters. The Germans, however, put the British losses at some forty-one 'planes.

A British Air Ministry communiqué last night stated:—

"Six squadrons of Blenheims of the Bomber Command, penetrated into the Rhineland this morning, to attack the great Cologne power stations at Quadrath and Knapsack. Fighters accompanied the bombers as far as Antwerp.

"The bombers went on alone, often flying at less than 100 feet on their 150 mile penetration of the German defence system. Both power stations were attacked at 11.30 a.m. at point-blank range. A great number of bombs scored direct hits, and the targets were left in flames.

"Fighters met the returning bombers near Antwerp, covering their withdrawal across the North Sea, while another strong force of fighters patrolled the Dutch coast in support.

"About the same time Hampden bombers, with fighter escort, attacked railways near St. Omer and the power station at Gosnay, in the Pas de Calais. Three enemy fighters were destroyed by the escort.

"Fortress aircraft attacked the aerodrome at De Kooy and objectives at Cologne and the port of Emden.

"Our losses in all these operations are 12 Blenheims and 8 fighters missing."

GERMAN CLAIMS

REUTER'S TELEGRAM.

Tuesday.

The Germans claim to have destroyed 41 British 'planes over Germany and German-occupied territory to-day.

According to the German News Agency, quoted by Reuter—11 of them were bombers and 30 fighters. The Germans, the Agency adds, did not lose a single 'plane, and the damage inflicted by the Royal Air Force was "insignificant."

The statement issued by the Official German News Agency reads:—"The Royal Air Force suffered a severe defeat at mid-day to-day in an attempted attack on the West German industrial area. Strong German defences prevented the enemy 'planes from reaching their target.

"They, therefore, dropped their bombs in the neighbourhood of Cologne. The damage caused is insignificant.

"Fighters and anti-aircraft artillery shot down 10 of the attackers. Another bomber was shot down by naval artillery.

"Six Spitfires were shot down by German fighters out of a formation flying towards the Dutch coast to escort the returning bombers home.

"Feint attacks on the Channel coast by the British also resulted in considerable losses to the enemy. They lost 15 aircraft.

"Total enemy losses, therefore, amount to 32, according to reports so far received.

"We suffered no losses."

Later the German Radio stated that German fighters shot down a further nine British 'planes off the coast of the occupied territories this evening.

RAIDERS SHOT DOWN OFF MALTA

MALTA, Tuesday.

Two raiding aircraft were shot down in flames into the sea, when the combined action of night fighters and anti-aircraft batteries drove off attacks by aircraft raiding singly and in couples last night. The raiders dropped a number of bombs without effect.—Associated Press.

A ship of 1,300 tons was attacked in the harbour of Syracuse, Sicily, by Swordfish aircraft of the British Fleet Air Arm on the night of August 10-11, and two direct hits with torpedoes are believed to have been obtained.

"All our aircraft returned safely from extensive raids by the Royal Air Force and Fleet Air Arm on enemy positions and aerodromes in Libya," said yesterday's Middle East Air communiqué.

Many tons of bombs fell on Benghazi, where four violent explosions and many fires were caused.

At Tripoli a hit on the power station caused an explosion, the glare from which was seen 100 miles away.

South African Air Force Tomahawks shot down a Messerschmitt 110 off the Egyptian coast, and two other raiding 'planes were destroyed.

PEACE MOVE DENIAL

IT is officially denied in London that there is any truth whatsoever in the statement attributed in a News Agency message to Senator Schaffer that Lord Beaverbrook has notified authorities in the United States that Great Britain will negotiate peace with Germany unless the United States enters the war within thirty days.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday.

Mr. Cordell Hull to-day termed the latest rumour that Britain may seek peace a patent absurdity.

INCREASED CATTLE QUOTA

DEMAND BY TRADERS

A deputation, representative of the various interests in the cattle industry, waited upon the Minister for Agriculture at Government Buildings, Dublin, yesterday, to bring before him the viewpoints raised at a meeting in Messrs. Gavin Low's premises, Prussia street, last week, and in particular to impress on Dr. Ryan the desirability of securing an increase in the fat cattle quota in Great Britain, and to urge him to secure the admission to Britain of certain classes of springers and of calved heifers.

The suggestions put forward by the deputation were given a sympathetic hearing by the Minister.

The deputation was introduced by Mr. Charles Fagan, T.D., who, with Messrs. J. B. Ganly and W. Shaw, represented the Salesmasters' Association. The exporters were represented by Messrs. John D. Sheridan (Dublin), T. Horgan (Cork) and Ml. Whelan (Tramore); Labour interests were represented by Mr. Sean O'Moore (Irish Seamen's and Port Workers' Union); Messrs. G. N. Wardell and P. McMahon represented the Farmers' Federation; and Messrs. John Bruton and J. P. Smith represented the stock-owners.

MINISTRY REAFFIRMS DECISION

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

BELFAST, Tuesday.

There was a further development to-day in the Belfast civic crux regarding the putting into effect of the findings of the Northern Home Ministry, following the inquiry into the maladministration at Whiteabbey Sanatorium.

In a letter to the Town Clerk, Mr. A. Robinson, Secretary to the Ministry of Home Affairs, stated that the proceedings at Monday's committee meeting of the Belfast City Council "in no way affected the decisions as contained in the Ministry's letter of the 8th inst."

The Minister of Home Affairs (Sir Dawson Bates), in a letter to Councillor Dowling, M.P., declared that "it would be improper for me to enter into any correspondence regarding the subject letter from my department to the Belfast Corporation."

Four members of the dissolved Tuberculosis Committee of the Belfast Corporation have been surcharged by the Local Government auditor in the sum of £14 in connection with the "black-out" contracts for the sanatorium at Whiteabbey. The surcharged members are:—Councillor W. A. Cochrane (Chairman), Councillor J. A. E. Hutchinson, Councillor Clarke Scott and Councillor J. Hopkins.

CARRIED BY ONE VOTE

The U.S. House of Representatives last night passed the bill extending the period of service of selectees (conscripts), national guardsmen and reserves by a margin of one vote, says a Washington message. The figures were 203 to 202.

DEATH OF LORD WILLINGDON

THE Marquess of Willingdon, who died yesterday in London, had been successively Governor-General of Canada and Viceroy and Governor-General of India.

One of the few commoners to attain to the dignity of a marquessate, Lord Willingdon was born Freeman Freeman-Thomas, son of Frederick Freeman-Thomas and Mabel, daughter of the first Viscount Hampden. From Eton he went to Cambridge, and then passed into the British Army. From 1895 to 1898 he was A.D.C. to his father-in-law, the first Earl Brassey, then Governor of Victoria, and on his return to England entered Parliament. In 1910 he was created baron.

Lord Willingdon was an exceptionally able administrator. He made his mark as Governor of Bombay (1913-19) and Governor of Madras (1919-24), his services being rewarded with a viscounty. The earldom came some seven years later.

When Lord Willingdon became Viceroy he found India in the throes of discontent. He grasped the situation firmly at the outset. To him was due in no small measure the success of the Government of India Bill. So fully were his services appreciated that in October, 1934, £8,025 was subscribed by leading Indian Princes for the erection of a statue to the Viceroy at Delhi to express their "high esteem and regard, and generally to commemorate his distinguished and long connection with the country."

Lord Willingdon married, in 1892, the Hon. Mary Alelaide, daughter of the first Earl Brassey. He is succeeded by his only surviving son, Viscount Rathendone, who was born in 1899. His elder son was killed in the war of 1914-18.

CLARE COUNTY AFFAIRS

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

ENNIS, Tuesday.

Mr. J. P. Geraghty, Local Government Inspector, with whom was Mr. W. J. S. Bloomer, Assistant Chief Engineering Adviser to the Department, opened a sworn inquiry at Ennis yesterday into the performance of their duties by the Clare County Council. Evidence was given by officials and members of the Council, after which the inquiry was adjourned until to-day, when the affairs of the Clare Mental Hospital Committee will be inquired into.

Mr. Cecil Lavery, S.C., with Mr. G. Kenny (instructed by Mr. T. A. Lynch), appeared for the County Council. There was little public interest taken in the proceedings.

Mr. Lavery said that the County Council were rather in the dark as to the reason for the inquiry. They had not seen the Minister's order. They considered that they had discharged their duty with all due efficiency. They were anxious to give every assistance in their power.

Mr. M. J. Carey, Secretary of the Council, gave evidence that in 1937-38 the rates on buildings had been 11/4 in the £ and 4/0½ on land. There had been increases every year until the present year.

The Inspector asked were there any members of the Council in arrears of rates, and witness replied that there were two, but the amounts were not large.

Asked if Clare had not been, without exception, regularly among the worst rate-paying counties, and on occasions the worst, witness replied it was true that the returns would be bad for the September and December quarters because people had got into the habit of paying their rates in March. At the end of March the county would not be the worst.

Further questioned, he said there were thirty-two rate collectors in the county, and as their districts were too small, they earned very little. This did not help the rate collection. They had an overdraft of £20,000 in 1937, and it was increased to £45,000 in 1940.

Mr. J. Brady, chairman of the Council since 1932, agreed with the inspector that for years Clare had been at the bottom of the list in regard to the collection of rates; but the county was a store-raising one, and the Council did not get in their rates until after the spring fairs.

Mr. Patrick Purcell, a member of the Council, who said he did not belong to the majority party in the Council—Fianna Fail—said that, irrespective of politics, he believed that everybody in the Council had been fair as far as administration was concerned.

After further evidence Mr. Lavery submitted that nothing had transpired at the inquiry which would justify the Minister in coming to the conclusion that the Council had not effectively discharged their duties. He wanted to make that statement in public.

STRUGGLE FOR UKRAINE

GERMANS SAID TO BE AT BLACK SEA

AS German military sources claimed last night that "parts of the Black Sea coast have already been reached," Moscow's latest communiqué indicated little change in the titanic struggle, in which Field-Marshal von Rundstedt has launched a million men against the Southern Ukraine.

Throughout the night the Red Army fought against the northern claw of the pincer drive against Kiev, at Korosten (100 miles north-west of the Ukrainian capital), and in the direction of Uman, the strategic town of the wheat belt, 16 miles north of the Soviet Black Sea naval base of Odessa.

In London well-informed circles state that, although the German thrust against the port is still being pressed without any sign of relaxation, there is no indication of any break through by substantial infantry units.

Reuter says that the Germans appear to have gained Smolensk, now "nothing more than a heap of ruins."

The general pivot of the German advance appears to be from the direction of Uman towards Odessa, rather than Kiev, which would take them in a south-easterly and not an eastern direction. Nikolaiev, 70 miles north-east of Odessa, is more directly threatened, and it is probable that a small German armoured force has reached to within 50-70 miles of this Black Sea grain port.

Berlin also says that in the Southern Ukraine "the energetic drive by Allied troops in pursuit of the enemy has led to considerable territorial gains. As the lower course of the River Dnieper, below Kiev, is already under the influence of German arms, this broad and powerful river, at this point 70 metres wide, is also affected as a line of communication for the Soviet."

NOT MENTIONED

The Russian communiqué does not refer to Byelaya-Tserkof, 45 miles south of Kiev, where Marshal Budyenny's skilful defence has been barring the way to the right arm of the German pincer movement.

Moscow not only gives no indication of changes in the south, but reports also that the Germans are held on other fronts in sectors mentioned frequently in recent communiqués.

During the night fighting continued also in the direction of Kexholm, on the western shores of Lake Ladoga; Solsti, 125 miles south of Leningrad, and Smolensk, where Marshal Timoshenko, defender of Moscow, still bars the way to the capital, over 200 miles away. In other directions and sectors of the front "no major operations took place."

In its communiqué yesterday the German High Command dismissed the Russian campaign with the sentence—"Operations are continuing favourably."

The Russians announced yesterday the rout by a combined action of Air Force, tanks, artillery and infantry units of a large German tank column in the Korosten area. More than 50 German tanks, two A.A. batteries, 12 A.A. machine-guns, 8 cars and 15 motor cycles were destroyed in the engagement.

The German News Agency claims that fighters shot down 27 Soviet 'planes during a patrol on this front yesterday.

The Germans appear at last to have gained possession of Smolensk, whose capture they announced three weeks ago, but so thoroughly have the Russians carried out their "scorched earth" policy that the German conquest is nothing more than a heap of ruins, says Reuter.

German military sources also said yesterday that the few railway lines in the Southern Ukraine "are under the control of allied troops, so that the whole traffic system has been paralysed."

"The Soviets," they added, "will not be able to hold the small section of the Dnieper bend they now have in their control."

A Finnish communiqué yesterday said that:—"North-west of Lake Ladoga the annihilation of large pockets of the enemy, formed by the advance of our troops to the shore of Lake Ladoga, was continued."

COMMANDERS TAKEN

The capture of two Soviet Commanders during fighting in the region of Uman was announced by the German News Agency last night. They are General Paval Ponedjelin, Commander of the Soviet 12th Army, and General Nikolei Kirillov, Commander of the 13th Infantry Corps.

"In breaking the resistance of the Soviet forces surrounded in the Uman area," it adds, "the Soviet 6th and 12th Armies and the 13th Infantry Corps were completely annihilated."

DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT

SOLDIERS AGAIN REMANDED

(BEFORE MR. HANNAN.)

The Justice decided to take new depositions in the case in which five soldiers of the Defence Forces are charged in connection with the assault and robbery of civilians in the Phœnix Park. The soldiers are:—Privates William Morrissey (21), Francis Fahy (22), Michael Haigney (25), Patrick Grogan (21) and Richard Bolger (21). Haigney, Grogan, Fahy and Bolger are charged with conspiracy, and with robbing, by violence, from Robert Mackle, Ormond road, Drumcondra, property value £2 12/1, and assaulting him. Fahy and Morrissey are charged with conspiracy, and with the robbery, by violence, of property value £2 4/4 from James Hogan, Eblana villas, Arbour Hill, and also with committing an aggravated assault on Hogan, as a result of which he was detained in the Richmond Hospital.

Witnesses who had given evidence at the previous hearing, repeated their accounts of having been set upon, beaten and robbed by soldiers when coming from the men's lavatory in the Phœnix Park.

Bolger was charged with illegal possession of two gent.'s strap watches (one gold); Morrissey with illegal possession of one gent.'s strap watch, and Fahy with illegal possession of one gent.'s wrist-watch.

The men were further remanded in custody until Tuesday next.

Mr. R. P. Humphries (Chief State Solicitor's Office) prosecuted, and Mr. M. F. Coghlan, solicitor, appeared for Bolger.

A £300,000,000 CUT IN U.S. DEFENCE BILL

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday.

The Senate Appropriations Committee to-day voted a reduction of some £300,000,000 in the new £2,015,000,000 Defence Appropriation Bill.

Senator Adams declared afterwards that the cut was unprecedented in its amounts. The Committee made miscellaneous additions to the bill totalling £28,000,000.

The Committee voted unanimously in favour of eliminating the £336,750,000 fund for army ordnance.

FIRM ASSURANCES TO TURKEY

BRITAIN AND RUSSIA PROMISE ALL AID

BRITAIN and Russia have promised full aid to Turkey if she is attacked by a European Power. This turn in the international situation was made known last night with the announcement that declarations in identical terms had been presented by both countries to the Turkish Foreign Office.

"NO AGGRESSIVE INTENTIONS"

The declarations make it clear that both Britain and Russia remain faithful to the Montreux Convention and have no aggressive intentions or claims with regard to the Straits.

On August 10 the British and Soviet Ambassadors called at the Turkish Foreign Office and presented the declarations.

The text of the British declaration is as follows:—

"His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom confirms their fidelity to the Montreux Convention and assure the Turkish Government that they have no aggressive intentions or claims whatever with regard to the Straits.

INTEGRITY

"His Majesty's Government, as also the Soviet Government, are prepared scrupulously to observe the territorial integrity of the Turkish Republic. While fully appreciating the desire of the Turkish Government not to be involved in war, His Majesty's Government, as also the Soviet Government, would nevertheless be prepared to render Turkey every help and assistance in the event of her being attacked by a European Power.

"Before presenting their written declarations each Ambassador explained orally the views of his Government. The Soviet Ambassador stated that as late as March, 1941—that is to say, during the period of well-known treaty relations between the Soviet Union and Germany—the Soviet Government exchanged assurances with the Government of the Turkish Republic in connection with reports that were then being spread to the effect that, if Turkey were compelled to enter the war, the Soviet Union would take advantage of Turkey's difficulties to attack her.

"It will be recalled that the Soviet Government, for their part, considered it necessary at that time to declare that such reports in no way corresponded to the attitude of the Soviet Union, and that, if Turkey were, in fact, attacked, and compelled to enter the war for the defence of her territories, she could count on full understanding and neutrality of the Soviet Union on the basis of the non-aggression pact between the two countries.

"It is known that after the treacherous attack of Nazi Germany on the Soviet Union, the Germans conducted, and are still conducting, a malicious propaganda against the Soviet Union, intended inter alia to bring about discord between the Soviet Union and Turkey.

PROPAGANDA

"In view of the fact that this propaganda, which is being intensively conducted by the German Government, has become even stronger at present, and considering that in the threatened international situation it is opportune that an exchange of views should take place between the Soviet Government and the Turkish Government on the subject of relations between the Soviet Union, Turkey, and Great Britain, the Soviet Government have instructed me to make to Your Excellency this declaration.

"His Majesty's Ambassador stated 'that in view of anti-Russian propaganda by the Germans, His Majesty's Government and the Soviet Government have considered it right to reaffirm categorically their attitude towards Turkey, in order that the Turkish Government may be under no delusion in the formation of their own policies towards Great Britain and the Soviet Union.'

"Both declarations were most warmly received."

NEW DUBLIN FIRE SERVICES

FULL-TIME AUXILIARY FIREMEN

A scheme which will mean an addition of more than 50 per cent. to the first-line fire defences of Dublin will come into operation to-day.

Mr. John P. Keane, Deputy City Manager, announces that, on the suggestion of the Chief Superintendent of the Fire Brigade, it has been decided, with the approval of the Air-Raid Precautions branch of the Department of Defence, to put into immediate effect the "pre-emergency scheme" of mobilisation, augmenting the regular fire service by taking on for whole-time duty approximately 30 auxiliary firemen. Under this scheme, four new stations will be opened, and, with a change, by agreement, in the duty system of the regular fire brigademen, it will be possible to augment considerably the number of whole-time fire-fighting personnel available for duty daily in the city. The effect of the proposal is that, instead of there being, as at present, a maximum of eight sections available at first call, there will, while the system is in operation, be a minimum of twelve sections available. In addition, personnel will be available for all other fire brigade duties, ambulance work, etc.

OPENING OF FOUR NEW STATIONS

Further, the opening of the temporary fire stations will secure that in the event of an unforeseen emergency, it will be possible to mobilise the full strength of the auxiliary fire service much more rapidly than has heretofore been practicable.

The four new fire stations are as follows:—

1, Thomas street (former fire station);
2, Crumlin Fire Station (Stannaway House);
3, Fitzwilliam Place Fire Station (Messrs. O'Kelly and Hendrick's garage, 45 Fitzwilliam place);
4, Cabra Fire Station (Annamoe garage, Old Cabra road).

The scheme is being put into operation as from Wednesday, the 13th instant, and the first two stations, i.e., Thomas street and Crumlin, will be opened as whole-time fire stations as from that date. The two other stations will be opened as soon as possible.

The proposals will cost approximately £11,000 per year, which will be defrayed out of Air-Raid Precautions account.

Persil washes whiter

It certainly takes Persil to give Persil whiteness. And it takes Persil for sheer gentleness too. That oxygen action is very thorough; but it's very delicate too. All your clothes and linens—doubly precious in these ration days—do last much, much longer if they're Persil washed. And Persil, besides saving clothes, saves soap as well. Those active suds are good for more than one job. After your next Persil-boil wash your coloureds and woollens in those selfsame Persil suds.

COMMUNITY KITCHENS—IV.

FEEDING THE CHILDREN

Dr. Collis's Scheme at Work

By an "Irish Times" Special Commissioner.

"WITH unemployment in so many homes, and extending sometimes over several years, it is only too apparent that many are existing on the border-line of poverty, both in quality and quantity of food supplies."—Dr. Catherine M. O'Brien (Chief School Medical Officer for Dublin), in her report for 1938.

In her 1939 report, to be published shortly, Dr. O'Brien refers to the examination of 45 school children, 22 of whom were found to be suffering from malnutrition.

Not every medical man has the same gift of expression as that used by Dr. W. R. F. Collis, when he wrote his remarkable play, "Marrowbone Lane," and awakened the civic sense of many Dubliners. Out of "Marrowbone Lane" has come one of the most remarkable of the communal feeding schemes.

"Food," says Dr. Collis, "is often more important than medicine," and the Committee of the Marrowbone Lane Samaritan Fund, of which he is the chairman, is doing its best to give food to needy mothers and children. Yesterday's article dealt with the manner in which the St. John Ambulance Brigade Welfare Department is looking after some of the women who come under the scheme; to-day we are concerned with what is being done for the children. Incidentally, the St. John's people only receive £1,000 a year from the Dublin Corporation (not £2,000, as reported yesterday) for looking after expectant mothers under that body's scheme.

GOOD FORTUNE

The first thing the Committee set out to do, when it first met a few months ago, was to seek funds—the response was remarkably good, but a sudden rush is no use unless a steady flow follows in order that the work may be kept going.

A remarkable piece of good fortune befell the scheme when the proprietors of Bewley's Cafés offered their premises (in Westmoreland street) and their help. The staff volunteered their aid as well, and the result is that the Fund was able to open its first feeding centre on April 24th last. From Mr. C. E. McConnell, who is vice-chairman of the committee, and Mr. V. E. H. Bewley, one of his fellow-committee men, I learned how the scheme is being worked.

A group of fifty children of unemployed men (drawn from the Inchicore district with the assistance of Mr. J. Hussey, Chairman of the local Unemployed Men's Association) were taken and medically examined. They are being given a special, balanced meal each evening (after the café has closed), and a medical check-up will be made to study their progress, as compared with another group of children who do not get the meal. The first check-up is due shortly, and the results should be very interesting, particularly as some of the voluntary workers told me that they have noticed that the children have become brighter in recent weeks.

200 NIGHTLY

Almoners of the Dublin hospitals which have been wise enough to appoint these officials, also send children to the feeding centre—these children have been picked out as definitely needing extra nourishment. They are put on the Fund for two months—longer if the physician recommending the case wishes it. The almoners also have small grants from the Fund to enable them to give immediate relief to specially needy cases they meet at their respective hospitals. A hundred children from the almoners' lists are now receiving the daily meal, and there is a waiting list of many more. A third source from which children are sent to the feeding centre is the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

The total number of children (whose ages range from five to thirteen) fed each night at the present time is about 200. The meal is entirely free, and, in addition, they are given tram tickets (on the same principle as in the St. John Ambulance Brigade's Welfare Department).

The meal consists of a stew (made on bone stock with minced meat and vegetables), a cereal pudding (tapioca, oatmeal, biscuit), "reinforced" with raw eggs, and a half-pint of milk. Some of the children have an ascorbic acid tablet dissolved in their milk (this provides vitamin C, the anti-scorbutic factor, obtained in more normal times from citrus fruits). Frequently mothers who accompany the children receive a plate of stew—it was found that one woman had not eaten for two days and another fainted from lack of food.

VEGETABLES AND EGGS NEEDED

When the meals began Mr. Bewley started a costing system, and discovered that the cost was 7d. per head. To-day, through the gifts of food which have been received, the cost has been reduced to 2½d. each, but, of course, this figure will fluctuate in proportion to the food received from outside sources. "Carrots, onions, greens and eggs are what we need most," Mr. Bewley told me, "and if people would preserve eggs and send them along to us in the winter months it would be a great help—we use about twenty dozen a week."

All the help is voluntary and, apart from Mr. Bewley and members of his staff, aid has come from friends of the fund, and some unemployed members of the Women Workers' Union turn in to give a hand. In this way not too much strain is thrown on a few people. The Dublin Rotary Club has done a great deal to assist the fund, and hopes to do more in the future.

The "Collis Scheme" is not, essentially, an emergency organisation. The health records of Dublin school children over a number of years reveal that many of them are suffering from malnutrition—both from bad feeding and under-feeding—and a permanent feeding centre for the needy would be an admirable institution. There would be work for such an institution for a very long time—until education and economic conditions render it no longer necessary.

SUGAR RATIONING

SPECIAL WARNING TO HOUSEHOLDERS

The attention of the Minister for Supplies has been drawn to statements that the system of registration for sugar supplies under the rationing scheme affords a loophole for householders to register with more than one retailer.

Householders are reminded that it is a serious offence for which heavy penalties are provided to register with more than one retailer. Retailers are warned that they must not accept a householder for special registration as a sugar customer on the Form S.5 unless that Form has been certified on behalf of the householder by the retailer with whom he is registered for tea supplies. The directions for certification are set out on the Form S.5.

Cases of special registration for sugar will be officially checked, and any person found to have registered with more than one retailer will be prosecuted.

TO-DAY'S SHOW AT SLIGO

BIG ENTRY FOR WESTERN CARNIVAL

SLIGO Show, which will be held to-day, under the auspices of the County Sligo Agricultural Society, promises to maintain fully its fine reputation it has established for itself during its existence of over a century.

ALL-IRELAND ENTRY

A total entry of over 1,400 has been received. The schedule of this excellently organised exhibition comprises 350 classes, including the Shorthorn Championship of Connaught and premiums for mares and foals, presented by the Royal Dublin Society. The fact that the prize fund is over £500 is sufficient attraction for exhibitors, and entries have been received from places as far apart as Cork, Waterford, Donegal, Dublin, Derry, Mayo, Longford and Leitrim. Twenty-five special prizes and cups are also offered for competition.

The usual high support has, as usual, been accorded to the cattle and horse sections, and it is expected the excellent standard of previous years will be achieved. Entries in the other live stock classes are also exceptionally good. The number of entries, in view of prevailing transport difficulties as well as restricted rail services, are considered satisfactory by the Committee, who feel justified in continuing the fixture during the present times, when so many other shows in the country have been temporarily abandoned.

HOME INDUSTRIES

The Dog Show, held under the Irish Kennel Club rules, is always an attractive feature, and has made rapid progress in recent years. Entries this year are again numerous in this section, while those in the Home Industries classes, which are run by a capable ladies' committee, almost reach a record figure.

For many years past among the most interesting features of the show was the educational exhibition stand, arranged by the County Sligo Committee of Agriculture and the Department of Agriculture. For to-day's show this has been greatly enlarged and numerous additions made.

NUMEROUS JUMPERS

The programme of riding and jumping has shown no sign of decrease, and the usual strong support is forthcoming from Sligo, Roscommon, Mayo and Leitrim.

Under the efficient presidency of Major Charles K. O'Hara, H.M.L., Annaghmore House, Annaghmore, Collooney, the committee have spared no effort to ensure the success of to-day's fixture.

A dance will be held in the Town Hall to-night.

The Irish Times

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 13, 1941.

Two Cities

Recent events in Belfast seem to suggest that something in the Irish atmosphere, or in the Irish temperament, is out of harmony with British methods of local government. Sixteen or seventeen years ago the Government of the twenty-six counties, dissatisfied with Dublin Corporation's management of civic affairs, took the drastic action of appointing three Government officials as a Commission to administer the city's business. Now, by all accounts, it is the turn of Belfast Corporation to bow the knee to a like decree from an Irish Government. The broad facts which have provoked the authorities of Stormont to call the Municipal Council to order were as simple as they are interesting. Among the institutions under municipal control was Whiteabbey Sanatorium. For reasons which it is not necessary to recall, the conduct of this establishment's affairs gave rise to serious public uneasiness; criticism became so outspoken and persistent that the Corporation found it desirable to call for a Government inquiry. The outcome of the official review and report, as communicated by the Ministry of Home Affairs to the Corporation, was the resignation of officials, and of two members of the committee, who had been responsible for the management of the sanatorium. More serious, from the public point of view, was the inquiry's recommendation that leading officials of the Corporation, who are responsible for the general administration of civic affairs, should be officially censured. Thereupon, the general body of citizens made urgent demands for a general inquiry into the whole system of municipal management. Public uneasiness became still more acute when it was announced that the Town Clerk and other leading officials who were not directly concerned with the sanatorium's administration had announced their decisions to retire; and, in these circumstances, the Corporation decided to institute an inquiry into the management of Belfast city. A special committee, with the Lord Mayor as chairman—popularly known as the "Big Six"—was appointed and began its investigations. In a preliminary report, presented last week, that committee endorsed and stressed the recommendations of the Government inquiry, and asked for something like plenary powers to review and reorganise the whole administrative system. The Corporation, by a bare majority, has rejected the request and dispensed with the committee's services.

Faced with that refusal, the Ministry of Home Affairs acted promptly. A letter from the Minister, expressing the Government's view that "the Corporation had shown complete irresponsibility" in rejecting its own special committee's report, concluded with the announcement that he had decided "to take legislative and administrative action immediately to secure that a proper regard shall be had to the wishes and interests of the ratepayers." Presented with that ultimatum, members of the Corporation who opposed the "Big Six's" report have made haste to explain that their purpose was to secure inquiry by an independent tribunal, and there are indications that the Government's wishes ultimately will be respected. Meanwhile, however, the citizens have welcomed the Government's action as a decision to appoint either Special Commissioners or a City Manager to control administration. While local newspapers representing all party interests are unanimous in support of some such alternative to a continuation of Corporation control, there are signs that any approach to "bureaucratic" methods may be met by strongly organised resistance. Judging from all the facts available, we are disposed to the belief that the outcome of the difficulty may be the acceptance of a compromise on lines that are familiar to the people of the twenty-six counties. The Corporation may remain in control of financial and legislative decisions, while administrative duties are delegated—as they are in Dublin—to a City Manager acceptable to the Government. Without hesitation, we would recommend the people of Belfast to welcome a compromise on some such lines. As happened in Dublin and other cities when the managerial principle was introduced, there, doubtless, would be outcries from ultra-democrats. Now, however, many such objectors have come to realise that the Manager, in concert and counsel with popularly elected bodies, is, in practice, among the strongest defences of "democracy."

We have asked whether there is something in the Irish temperament which compels two communities, so widely different as those of Dublin and Belfast, to reconsider systems of local administration that appear to work with smoothness and efficiency in British municipalities. Full consideration of the facts seems, however, to suggest that such developments may be traced to other, and much less subtle, causes. Let us put it this way. Had Dublin Castle and the old Local Government Board continued to exercise control of local administration, such decrees and suppressions of "local" opinion hardly could have been conceived. The country, North and South, would have rebelled against any such "bureaucratic" invasions of popular rights. With the coming of native Parliaments and Governments, in which local opinion could have adequate expression, the position changed fundamentally. To take an extreme view, city councils no longer were needed to voice the demands of democracy. In Dublin—and more especially in Belfast, which embraces more than a third part of Northern Ireland's population—there were dangers that Legislatures and city councils might become rival authorities. Experience has shown that such possibilities were not merely theoretical. Actually in Belfast, as in Dublin, such conflicts of democratic authority have occurred. To such conflicts, indeed, we can attribute directly the appointment of Government-approved managers in cities of the twenty-six counties and the present crisis in the civic affairs of Belfast. To that new relationship between national and local representative assemblies we can trace—and in it find justification for—many alleged invasions of local "rights" by the representatives of local interests assembled in the Parliaments of Dublin and Belfast. For these and other reasons we respectfully commend the managerial principle to our friends on the other side of the border.

Behind the Counter

A short time ago the British postal authorities issued a statement which allowed women workers in the post offices all over the country to wear trousers, "of a suitable colour and cut," during office hours, provided that they were not serving behind public counters. Postal workers in the latter category are obliged to keep to the customary and more austere form of clothing. A writer in the Manchester Guardian, however, very wisely points out that, since clerks working behind public counters naturally would be invisible from the waist downwards, there seems to be no legitimate reason why they, too, should not be allowed to avail themselves of the advantages of the less formal type of costume. He quotes as an example the popular tradition with regard to musicians in theatre orchestras, who, we are led to believe, amuse themselves from time to time by attending the evening performance faultlessly attired in a dinner jacket from the waist upwards, and from there downwards—which part is, of course, in most cases invisible—in anything that happens to take their fancy, as, for example, a kilt, a pair of shorts, or a pair of plus fours. Whether or not this tradition is founded on fact, it is not without the realms of possibility; and certainly a member of the audience would be hard put to discover what either a musician or a shop-assistant happened to be wearing from the waist downwards. As a matter of fact, unless the latter needed to climb over the counter in order to retrieve some goods from one of his light-fingered customers, or the former to leave the orchestra pit in order to retrieve some part of his instrument which in the heat of the moment he had blown into the auditorium, the public could have no conceivable opportunity to survey his nether state. Of course, under normal conditions, when it is as easy to wear the correct apparel as not, such a system could not be condoned; but at the present time, when every little saving of material helps the nation as a whole, the idea could be exploited to its fullest extent. It may yet become necessary to issue people with only those articles of clothing which are essential to propriety and advisable for reasons of etiquette. In such conditions, citizens who work behind counters could wear fustian shorts or bathing trunks.

Everyman's War

We fear that war has ceased altogether to be a gentleman's business. Some people argue that it never was, except possibly, in the highly-overrated age of chivalry; and even then the gentlemen were apt to forget about the "gentle" part of it in time of war and resort to tactics which in normal times they might consider a trifle "unsporting." In the present war, anyhow, the British Army seems to have surpassed itself; for not only does it expect gentlemen to do such nasty work as espionage, but it also welcomes to the ranks, with open arms, actual renegades and outlaws who might prove useful. Recently the authorities issued an appeal for poachers and ex-poachers who are willing to place their knowledge of woodcraft and the kindred arts at the Army's disposal for the duration of the war. It is not likely that many people will admit that they are poachers—which, presumably, is the reason why the word "ex-poachers" is included in the appeal—but probably a large number of people will be only too glad to consider themselves "ex" until the end of the war, and so to serve the nation in the way to which they are most accustomed. Certainly poachers and the like could be most useful for invasion or anti-invasion tactics, or, indeed, for any form of guerrilla warfare, and the fact that the Army authorities have no scruples in recognising the value of people whom, at other times, the civilian authorities did their best to suppress shows that they mean to "take off their gloves" and will not hesitate to use unconventional methods to carry out their plans. One cannot help wondering, however, whether the matter will end there. If the authorities have no scruples in calling on the services of poachers it does not seem likely that they will hesitate to call on the services of thieves; for thieves, with their extensive knowledge of codes, makeshift weapons, cat-burglary and safe-breaking should prove most useful to the Secret Service for espionage purposes. One wonders, too, whether these outlaws and renegades who have been used by the Army will be sent on their way with a blessing when the war is over, or will discover that their utility has ended as rapidly as it has been recognised.

The Cane Threatened.—Plots were given for the production of food, and then young puppies stole the food to obtain money for the pictures. If similar cases came before him again he would order six cuts of the cane, said District Justice Troy yesterday at Dungarvan, when a fourteen-year-old boy admitted he stole carrots from a parish council plot.

AN IRISHMAN'S DIARY

M. Andrew Rothstein

A very interesting young Russian, M. Andrew Rothstein, is now in London as correspondent for the official Soviet Press Agency, Tass

M. Rothstein knows England well; for he was educated there, and had a distinguished course at a famous old English university. His Communist activities, if I am not mistaken, more than once made him something less than persona grata in Government circles; but that was before this second world war and the new Anglo-Soviet alliance. He is the author of several studies in English, including one on the influences of the Chartist movement of a century ago.

His father, M. Theo Rothstein, was one of the original members of Lenin's Bolshevik party, although, I fancy, that was not generally known in England until after the Russian Revolution of 1917.

M. Theo Rothstein lived many years in London, acted for some time as foreign correspondent for the Daily News, and wrote an important work, "Egypt's Crisis," when our countryman, Fred Ryan, was editing the English organ of the Young Egyptian Nationalists. He had other Irish associations, too.

During the last war he worked for a time in the translation department of the British Foreign Office. After the Bolshevik Revolution the British treated unofficially with him as representative of the Soviet Government until M. Maxim Litvinov's Ambassadorship was formally recognised.

Later Rothstein père was Soviet Minister to Iran or Persia.

"Tote Tickets"

Quite a number of "tote" patrons who used the slot machines for the first time at the Phœnix Park on Saturday—in response to a printed appeal to save paper—were puzzled by the fact that each slot ticket was much thicker than the corresponding ticket issued from the ordinary windows.

On enquiry from an official I learned that for every two windows in the "tote" a pad of 25 tickets has to be prepared for each horse declared to run, both for win and for place. From the majority of these pads few tickets are sold, while on those representing the more fancied horses the entire pads and subsequent replacements are all sold. On the other hand, the slot machine actually prints each ticket as it issues it from a blank roll of paper. Thus every slot ticket printed is eventually sold.

An idea of what the waste can amount to will be obtained from the fact that in 1940 the "tote" used over six million tickets, while only 967,047 tickets were actually purchased by the public making cash bets.

Incidentally, the St. John Ambulance Brigade profits from the situation, as the Tote Board have made it a present of all old "tote" tickets, which, being printed on high-grade paper, fetch the highest price on the market.

Decorative Accents

With the craze for interior decoration, flowers and their arrangement are receiving added attention these days. But for effective arrangements of flowers we must look to America.

There ingenuity is indicated in the type of container used for the arrangement of the different flowers. For example, it is not unusual to see an antique china soup tureen flaunting a profusion of daisies, and tawny lilies—just our old friend the orange lily of glorious and immortal memory, re-named in America. You may also see an old copper bowl filled with marigolds, or a very new idea is represented by the use of large sea shells to hold tall snapdragons.

Those large shells were particularly prized in Victorian times, and were usually brought from Australian and other far-off beaches to friends at home. In recent times they lay neglected until Americans discovered a use for them.

I perceive, too, that New York is arranging red geranium heads in aluminium cake tins, and setting them around the base of tall wax candles. It would be a nice idea to copy if we had the candles.

Emergency Fuel

This "tip" promises to be useful. It comes from a New Ross correspondent:—

"Now that the fuel question is so much in evidence, I thought your readers might be interested to hear how we are solving the problem in Co. Wexford—namely, with home-made brickettes.

"These are made with 60 per cent. coal slack, 20 per cent. cement, and 10 per cent. each of river mud and sawdust. Mix all to a stiff consistency with a little water. Shape each brickette into a tin 7" by 4" by 2½" depth. Turn out on a board and leave two days in the open to dry.

"These burn equally well in a range or grate."

Benevolence on the 'Bus

Travelling to Delgany the other afternoon on the restricted service, I was pleasantly surprised, when the already overcrowded 'bus stopped in front of a group of prospective passengers, to hear the conductor say, quite courteously: "I cannot take you all, but I will try to take the most deserving cases."

Thereupon he asked all the people where they intended to go, and allowed two or three people who stood the least chance of reaching their destination by any alternative method of transport to board the 'bus.

WEDDING

CAPTAIN R. M. PRATT AND MISS D. M. PAGE

At St. Patrick's Church, Clane, yesterday, Captain Reginald Michael Pratt, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Pratt, Bank House, Naas, County Kildare, was married to Miss Diana Mary Page, daughter of the late Mr. Charles Percy Page, of Calcutta, and of Mrs. Frank Boylan, Millicent, Sallins, Co. Kildare.

The Rev. Father J. P. Keogh, P.P., Clane, officiated, and was assisted by the Rev. Father McDonald.

The church was decorated with mixed flowers.

The bride, who was given away by her step-father, Major Frank Boylan, wore a classical gown of parchment satin, cut very simply, and a veil of old Limerick lace, held in place by a head-dress of gardenias. She carried a bouquet of cream roses.

She was attended by three bridesmaids—Miss Magda Boylan, Miss Frances Boylan and Miss Peggy Radcliff—and by a page, Master Desmond Boylan.

The bridesmaids wore pale blue dresses, with jackets to match, and velvet sashes in sweet pea colourings. They wore sweet pea in their hair and carried bouquets of shell-pink sweet pea.

Mr. Gerard Sweetman acted as best man, and the ushers in the church were Mr. E. Boylan, Dr. Brian Pringle, Mr. Randal Sadleir, Mr. Cyril Maffey, Mr. Patrick Mansfield, and Mr. Michael Mansfield.

A reception was held at Millicent, Sallins, by the bride's mother, who wore a turquoise blue ensemble and a white hat, trimmed with feathers and veiling.

Later in the day Captain and Mrs. Pratt left for England, the bride wearing a two-piece costume of ice-blue wool, trimmed with Canadian squirrel, and a squirrel toque to match.

VITAMIN C FROM AN IRISH SOURCE

While concentrated vitamins may be difficult to obtain, as reported in the Irish Times yesterday, an Irish dietician has revealed that Vitamin C—one of the most important for children—can be obtained from a very common vegetable grown in Ireland.

The vegetable is the swede turnip, and it has been found that the juice of a raw swede turnip is about half as rich in Vitamin C as the best orange juice. Other sources of the vitamin are fresh milk, citrus fruits (now difficult to obtain), tomatoes, raspberries, black currants, raw green-leaf vegetables and potatoes (cooked in their skins). New sources are being explored, including preserves made from hawthorn haws and rose hips.

This information was revealed in a recent lecture by Professor W. R. Fearon to the Irish Free State Medical Union and recorded in the current Journal of that organisation.

Died on a Train.—William Campbell (55), of Roden street, Belfast, collapsed in the train when coming from Bangor yesterday morning, and was dead on reaching the Royal Victoria Hospital.

MOTORING HOLIDAYS SPOILED

PETROL COUPONS NOT SUPPLIED

Many motorists who planned to use their cars for August holidays have been disappointed—they had no petrol coupons supplied to them up to yesterday. The Department of Supplies said yesterday that the last of the applications for August coupons had been dealt with, and the coupons would be in the post yesterday or to-day. These motorists want to know if the Government will give them an extension of the August licensing period corresponding to the twelve days or so lost through not receiving the coupons.

An Irish Times reporter was told at the Taxation Office, Kildare street, that such an extension could not be granted from that office—it was a matter for the Department of Local Government. Inquiries at this Department failed to reveal any disposition towards the requested accommodation.

SHOULD APPLY IN TIME

An official of the Automobile Association said: "It would seem equitable that an extension should be allowed, as the petrol licences were given out some days after the tax had been paid."

This official thought that in some cases motorists were to blame for the position, inasmuch as they had not sent in application for coupons early enough. He knew of genuine cases of hardship, however, and said that some people had had to cancel hotel bookings because they had no petrol to travel.

A number of motorists complained yesterday about the Department's slowness in issuing the coupons. They said that it forced them to take the risk of getting petrol by irregular means. Their holidays were fixed, and if they had not petrol they were also spoiled.

It is very unlikely that any extension will be granted, as September will also be a holiday period, and the overlapping of the two months would lead to much confusion. The question of insurance cover for those whose cars are taxed and insured only for the holiday month would also become involved.

The Laune Fishery.—An inquiry was held yesterday by Mr. G. P. Farren, Chief Inspector of Fisheries and Mr. A. E. J. Went, Inspector at Killorglin, into an application for the prohibition of salmon and trout netting on the tidal waters of the River Laune.

Likely Double For Maddenstown

Trains: Amiens St., 4.20, 5.10, 5.25.

FOR the second stage of the Tramore Meeting, at Baldoyle this afternoon, fields should be of nice strength. The Fleming Memorial Steeplechase is the chief event, and this will attract the smallest field, only four runners having been declared, and as three of them are in C. A. Rogers's stable it is likely competition will not be very strong. This stable's selected should win.

Tote double on Third and Fifth Races.

Clonbern was a costly failure at Galway when beaten by Word of Honour and Tommy Tucker, and may make amends by winning the Welter Plate. Submarine may complete a double for Maddenstown Lodge by winning the Kilkenny Plate. Selections:—

Baldoyle Yesterday

In Clover's Surprise in Graun Plate

THE first stage of the Tramore four days' meeting, transferred to Baldoyle and Dundalk, had a good send-off at the Sutton course last evening, where there was a fair-sized crowd.

Most of the races were won by well-backed horses, but there was a complete upset to calculations when Mr. A. L. Moore's In Clover won the Graun Plate. Ridden by Mr. D. A. Walker, son of Mr. R. H. Walker, the daughter of Legatee won on a tight rein, and, if memory serves right, it was at Baldoyle that Mr. Walker's father also won his first race. The totalisator dividend on the winner was £15 15/6, representing odds of 156½ to 1.

Those who laid odds on Sun Drop to win the Directors' Hurdle were not on the best of terms with themselves during the early stages of the race; for Mrs. E. McGrath's filly was not jumping too well and was badly placed. Coming on the outside in the straight, however, she stayed on much better than any of the others, and actually won with a lot in hand. Backers were again right on the mark when making Galloping Sandy favourite for the Visitors' 'Chase. Jumping sideways at some of the fences, Mrs. A. H. Watts's horse was not an easy mount for W. T. O'Grady; but, after stalling off a strong challenge from Cooleragh, he ran on gamely to score by a length.

The well-bred Vides, owned by Mr. B. Kerr, though now in his fourth year, won his first race when beating eight others in the Moderate Plate. Green Star and Glenapp looked to have the race between them as they came into the straight, but Vides got the better of each in turn to score readily. Fettlesome refused to start.

Knightswood, as is his wont, made all the earlier running in the Lismore Plate, but it looked as if his bolt was shot when Miss Albany headed him before the turn into the straight. Mis Paget's filly, however, could not sustain the effort, and Knightswood stayed on well to score.

Pantry, making light of a 7lb. penalty, made amends for Miss Albany's failure by winning the Dungarvan Steeplechase. Details:—

Miss Conway Defeats Irish Champion

MISS MARY NICHOLS is having a somewhat thin time since her victory in the Irish open singles at Fitzwilliam last month. Following her defeat at Lansdowne by Miss S. Curley, she met with another reverse yesterday, Miss N. Conway, the clever and determined Glenageary player, beating her in straight sets. There was almost a gale of wind at Bray yesterday morning, and, under these difficult conditions, Miss Conway's longer experience told heavily. Her defence against the wind was masterly; for, even though she was forced well behind the baseline to pick up her opponent's fierce drives, she retrieved splendidly, and, with the wind, had far more control of her ground shots.

There will be a new champion in this event, as Miss D. Curley (the holder) has been forced to scratch owing to the effects of a recent accident.

Three players—P. Read, J. McHale and P. D. McWeeney—have reached the last eight of the men's singles, and the first-named is showing the form which won him the hard court title last season. S. C. Robb, another former junior champion, has been putting up some good performances lately, and he scored a capital win over B. J. Murphy—here again control of shots in the breeze and a fine service proving the vital factors.

In the women's doubles Miss W. Moore, the Ardee player, and Miss J. Scott put up a grand performance in running Miss B. Good and Miss Nichols to three close sets. Results:—

Holder's Hard Fight at Lahinch

P. F. Murray, the holder, got through the second and third rounds of the South of Ireland Championship at Lahinch yesterday, but he had to fight hard in the third round to defeat P. Garrahy. LONDON MONEY MARKET

The turnover in Lombard Street showed a slight expansion yesterday. The supply of credit was very comfortable and overnight money could be obtained at ½ per cent. from non-clearing lenders. The Shanghai dollar on London rose from 2 11/16d. to 2 13/16d. and on New York from 4 11/16 cents to 4 15/16 cents.

At yesterday's silver fixing both spot and forward quotations rose 1/16d. to 23½d. as the result of a small demand for industrial purposes.

GUINNESS FALL ON PROFIT-TAKING

Public interest on the Dublin Stock Exchange yesterday was on a modest scale, and centred chiefly round local securities, where prices moved in irregular fashion. British Industrials were rather neglected, but the tone was quite firm, and Imperial Tobacco displayed renewed strength.

The Second National Loan fell 10/- to 115, but 4 per cent. Exchequer Bonds advanced to 110, while other issues held up well.

Guinness units met with some profit-taking and dropped to 84/9, but later they recovered to 85/-, and looked buyers at the close.

Rails showed little life, and Great Southern Deb. relapsed 30/- to 46. Irish Times 1st Pref. jumped 1/3 to 14/-, and Stephen's Green Cinema Ord. added pence at 1/-, but Goodbody Pref. were dull at 19/6.

WALL STREET RALLY IN FINAL DEALINGS

NEW YORK, Tuesday.

Dealings on the Stock Exchange to-day were negligible and the market oscillated feebly below the surface, with fractional losses well distributed, as impending stringent curbs on instalment selling are further puncturing inflation talk. At the same time a multiplicity of other deterrents perists.

Of the 702 issues traded in the turnover of 430,000 shares 184 advanced, 289 declined and 229 remained unchanged.

The Steels, Rails, Aircrafts and Motors were outstanding in a general stiffening in the final dealings, and the tone at the close was steady.—(Reuter.)

LONDON STEADY

IMPERIAL TOBACCO ORD. STRONG

Caution was again the keynote of the London Stock markets yesterday, but, while business again proceeded slowly pending further developments in the Far Eastern situation and fresh news from the Ukraine front, there was little attempt to reduce commitments, and, indeed, the general tone was rather more settled, sentiment being assisted by a recovery of a point or so in Japanese Bonds.

Revived investment demand for a selection of the front-rank Industrials helped to strengthen the rallying movement in the closing stages, and finally a number of notably firm features were to be seen, outstanding among them being "Imps," which rose 1/16 to 5⅜ on the official statement that more cigarettes and tobacco will be available in a few weeks' time.

Scattered offerings caused slight losses in Old Consols, Local Loans and Conversion 3½ p.c.

There were no indications of any falling off in the demand for Foreign Rails, and once again several Argentine Deb. issues scored substantial gains.

Mines had a place in the background, and, despite the record gold output for July, Kaffirs tended to sag, some of the speculative favourites being offered in a small way from the Cape.

Most of the principal Oil issues wound up at reduced rates. Anglo-Iranians were notably dull at 35/-.
